OWNERS SAY LAW IS UNJUST.

Civic Improvement League Agrees to New Measure Which Would Be Satisfactory to All.

Officers of the Civic Improvement League argued with team owners before the Ways Means Committee of the City Council at the public hearing yesterday relative to bill which contemplates repcaling the wide-tire law.

The teem owners declare the wide the law is unjust, impracticable and unconstitutional. The Civic Improvement League adults the law is dicetive to a certain extent but plead, in the interest of good streets, with the team owners, to draft at amendatory ordinance to smit them as well as the advocates of good streets. They declare they are willing to meet the team owners half way and pledge their assistance in drafting a new law that would be satisfactory to all.

The members of the Council committee, Messrs, Boyce, Hoffmann and Hodges, were of the opinion that the best remedy would be for the Civic improvement Lague members and team owners to agree on an amendatory ordinance.

EASY TO RUN ROAD.

EASY TO RUIN ROAD.

Mr. Stuyvesant said. "It is a regular thing to band 1,000 brick, weighing 5,300 pounds plus the weight of the wagon, on a tire varying from one and one-half to two inches in which. I measured the tire of a goal wagon, with weigher's certificate, calling for 13,430 pounds, on a three-sinca tire. No streets can be built to stand that kind of traffic. Every one who has traveled in Great Britain, or en the Continent, las noticed the splendid roads everywhere and also the fact that all wagons have broad tires. No matter how well a road may obbuilt, it can easily be ruined.

"The Massarbusetts law requires that wagons having iron or steel axies shall have three of a width twice the diameter of the axie at the shoulder. If they have thimble and wooden axies, then the tires shall be equal in width to the diameter of the axie at the shoulder, These seem good provisions, in that the owner of the wagon naturally proportions the diameter of the axie to the shoulder, these seem good provisions, in that the owner of the wagon naturally proportions the diameter of the axie to the load to be carried.

"A narrow tire makes ruts and breaks in the road, which makes it worse for the wagons following. Hard hauling again reacts on the road, accelerating its destruction. A narrow tire makes and finds cracks and ruts that a broad tire would never break nor drep into."

REPEAL ORDINANCE.

REPEAL ORDINANCE.

Mr. Tansey stated that the ordinance had been drafted by those not in the teaming business and that consequently its requirements are not based on scientific principles. The only way to rectify the error, he said, was to repeal the ordinance and oraft a new one. He accepted the invitation of Mr. Leighton to meet with members of the Civic Improvement League.

Mr. Allen stated that it would be impossible to change the width of tires now in use without reconstructing the wagons. He said he had experimented with twelve wagons in an offort to conform with the ordinance, but had found the wagons unfit for service. Mr. Kent stated that it was his understanding that teamsters and team owners had been consulted before the law was drafted.

ILLINOIS HOUSE COMMITTEE AGREES ON CONVICT LABOR.

After Much Friction, an Understanding Is Accomplished and a Draft of What Is to Be a Committee Bill Is Prepared - Child Labor Clause Subject of Several Speeches by East St. Louis and Alton Workmen's Representatives-Both Houses Pasy All Day.

YESTERDAY'S WORK IN ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

In both branches of the Assembly and in committee the Illinois Assembly was re-leased from its lethargy and worked yesterday. The Parker resolution requiring the nublication of the State pay rolls and the woman's-suffrage bill were killed in committee.

The House joint subcommittee appointed at a joint meeting of the two labor commit-ies, in which there has been much friction, has settled upon the skeleton draft of what

Ill be a committee bill prohibiting contract labor to penitentiaries.

The child-labor chause in the proposed amendment to the factory-inspection law was again the occasion for a symposium before the Committee on Labor and Industrial Af-fairs. Alten and East St. Louis glass manufacturing interests were strongly represented.

The bills increasing the salaries of Judges in the country circuits to 45,000 and providing for the licensing of turbers were debated in the House. Another attack on the race tracks developed in the shape of a second bill prohibiting bookmaking and pool selling.

Martin Schnipper of Belleville introduced a bill providing for an improved system of signaling in mines.

will be a committee bill was drafted.
William Morris, chairman of the Elec-tions Committee, wished to report the suf-frage bill, with the recommendation that it pass. He declared a motion to this effect carried, but demand for a recorded vote showed seven against and six for the motion. The motion to table carried by the same vote.

FIGHTS SUFFRAGE BILL.

J. M. Gray of Decaur again was the most energetic opponent of the measure. He stated before the committee that he had wished that the bill could be reported out without recommendation in order that the members who had been assuring is dies interested in the bill of their support might be compelled to go on record. But these members had so carnestly besough thim and others on the committee to kill the bill in committee that they were compelled to you against releasing it.

The Parker resolution came up in the State Augustion of their employes, and upon the State Institutions to furnish a full pay-roll list of their employes, and upon the State Augustion to prepage a consolidated pay-roll of Illinois; and that maps and charts of public buildings and grounds be prepared by the State Supervising Architect.

Senator McKenzie was first to announce his orposition. Others followed his lead, making it clear that some of the organization Senators at least are not so aniagonistic to the chief executiva. It appeared also that Senator Stringer, the Democratic leader, is in some matters well disposed toward Governor Yates.

Il do not feed disposed," said McKenzia, "to be placed in the position of a knocker. The passage of this resolution would be regarded as a slap at the Governor and would practically amount to a vote of lack of confidence in his administration."

the resolution will never see the light of day.

Representative Clarence Durrow, lately attorney for the anthracite miners, was largely instrumental in bringing about an agreement upon a basis for a convict labor bill. Adam Menche, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, addressed the committee, citing the same arguments that be offered last week at the joint meeting of the Committee on Penal and Reformatory Institutions and the Committee of Labor. Mr. Chipperfield argued in favor of the use of machinery to a modified degree and remarked that in New York the convicts are employed in the printing of State reports, and that for this expensive machinery to finish the work is needed.

LABOR'S ATTITUDE.

LABOR'S ATTITUDE.

J. H. Crosby, a member of the Legislative Committee of the Federation of Labor, attacked this proposition with heat and vigor. He said the labor organizations were opposed to establishing a printing plant in the penitentiaries, and that they demanded the abolishment of the use of any machinery whatsoever. J. F. Morris, secretary of the Illinois Federation of Labor, closed the discussion on behalf of the men by calling attention to the planks in Republican and Democratic State platforms, declaring against the use of machines.

"If you gentlemen carry out the propositions of these olanks," said he, "organized labor will be satisfied."

"You appear to forget," said Mr. Stewart, Prohibition member, "that platforms are made to get in on, not to stand on."

At this point, Representative Darrow offered a resolution that named the provisions which a committee bill must contain. This carried and closed the meeting.

Following is the outline prepared by Darrow of the essential features of a committee bill:

1. Abolition of contract labor in the penal LABOR'S ATTITUDE.

4. That articles manufactured in the penal d reformatory Institutions shall be for the e of the State, or the political divisions thereof.

5. That provision be made for increased educational facilities at the prisons.

6. That no, product of a penal institution be offered for sale in the open market.

GLASS WORKERS HEARD.

Alten and East St. Louis glass manufacturing interests and also representatives of the glass blowers' organizations were to-day to oppose the amendments to the factory-inspection act, which prohibits the employment of children under 16 years at night work. The glass workers have beys to assist as helpers. They shift from night to day work, and many of the youths are under 16. The shift is necessary to the manufacture of glass, and hence the opposition to the restrictions.

In behalf of the bill many well-known State officials and prominent women were present. The measure is before the Labor Committee. No action was taken. The committee adjourned until to-morrow evening, when it will meet in executive session. the factory-inspection act, which prohibits Jack of Streator, Joseph Mestor of East St. Louis, representing the glass manufacturers, and Mrs. Sophia De-Muth, the probation officer of Alton.

The Boulware bill, regulating the practice of dental surgery, was discussed in the Judiciary Committee. Eight amendments to the measure were adopted, and it was then ordered reported to the House favorably. The principal amendment provides that the Board of Dental Examiners, which is to consist of five members appointed by the Governor, shall have received the recommendation for such appointment at the last preceding meeting of the Illinois State Dental Society.

PROPOSES TO ABOLISH CANAL. cenator Rainey Introduces Measure

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. Springfield, Ill., March 3.-Senator Raines in the Senate this morning introduced a res olation aimed directly at one of the crowning scandals in Illinois.

It asks the Assembly to abandon the Illinois and Michigan Canal, which is generally

It asks the Assembly to abandon the Illimois and Michigan Canal, which is generally termed a sort of cess-pool extending across the northern part of the State, for the maintenance of which 1400,000 annually is required, and which has milked the State of thousands in attorney fees.

The resolution recites that the canal is of no practical benefit, that its stagnant waters are a menace to health, that under the Constitution the Legislature is prohibited from appropriating Treasury funds in all of railroads or canals, and requires that the canal be abandoned and steps taken to convert it into a public highway.

Senator Parker offered a resolution changing in minor particulars the making up of the daily calendar. Under the rules both resolutions went over for one day.

Several bills were passed by the Senate. Among them were Senator Gardiner's, and thorizing County Courts in every county save Cook to appoint shorthand reporters to the Secretary of State; Senator Dickson's giving church corporations the powers to dispose of church property; Senator Humphrey's, authorizing the issuance of under the property of the tenenth of the famine sufferers in Northwestern Sweden and Finland be considered in mediately, since it would fail of its object unless promptly acted upon. be included in this arrangement will be between Hodiamont, Union, Deimar and Easton avenues.

In order to make this arrangement the Assistant Health Commissioner says he will have to make some concession to the garbage contractors, as they have shown no disposition to go out of their way to accommodate the city.

The law requires that garbage receptacles must be placed within ninety feet of the street or alley, and in cases where there are no alleys this means that the receptacles must be placed on the sidewalk.

The city has been divided into two districts for garbage collection. On Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays all the wagons are pressed into service in the district south of Washington avenue, and on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays wagons are used in the district north of Washington avenue. By this arrangement it is an easy matter for the sanitary inspectors to keep track of the work done by the garbage collectors, since the order of the Board of Health was issued, has been satisfactory. At present, he says, it is impossible for the wagons to reach some portions of the Cabanne district on account of the condition of the streets. When the cold weather breaks he will make arrangements with the contractors to improve the service in that neighborhood.

an enthusiastic Irish-American gathering at the Robert Emmet anniversary, held under the auspices of the United Irish League at the Odeon last evening.

Aside from the main object of the evening's entertainment, which was the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the Irish patriot, the audience was attracted by another motive, dear to the heart of the Irish alien, to hear the conditions existing in their native land.

Besides the speeches, the committee in charge of the entertainment had arranged the following programme of music Planosolo, "Medley of Irish Airs," Miss Martie Ward; vocal solo, "The Harp That Once Through Tara's Halls," Miss Marcella Barry; vocal solo, "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms," Miss Ella Readey; vocal solo, "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms," Miss Ella Readey; vocal solo, "My Wild Irish Rose," R. A. Bacon,
On the stage grouped about the speaker were the Very Reverend F. V. Nugent, rector of Kenrick Seminary; the Honorable John P. Mitchell of New York, John P. Leahy, Joseph McDonald, Thomas A. Rice and the Reverend Fathers Taylor, Federy, Morriss, O'Connor, Huber, O'Leary and Shea.

Joseph McDonald, chairman of the Arrangements Committee, introduced the Reverend Father Nugeni as chairman of the meeting. He quickly put the audience in a cheerful mood by recounting some amusing personal experiences that happened during his recent our through the Emerald Is,e, Before introducing Mr. Devlin, the chairman paid a touching tribute to the memory of the one in whose honor the entertainment was given.

As Mr. Devin stepped to the speaker's desk the young Irish member was greeted with a whirlwind of applause that lasted several minutes. Mr. Devin, though small in stature, has a very commanding presence and a powerful vice. His speech was purely rhetorical in its composition and freighted with well-sustained chimaxes. He said:
